

RULE NON-PAYING INMATES TO GET AGE ASSISTANCE

State Supreme Court Reverses Policy of Welfare Department

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—The state supreme court held today that inmates of private institutions for the aged who have not paid for the care received are entitled to receive old age assistance.

The opinion, which reversed the policy of the public welfare department and automatically increases the old age pension rolls, upheld a portion of a Sangamon county court decision ordering an award to Mrs. Mary S. Freeman, an inmate of the I. O. O. F. home at Mattoon.

The high court, however, held the Sangamon county court had no right to grant Mrs. Freeman an $18 monthly pension, abiding by its decision of last week that the public welfare department has exclusive authority to fix amounts.

The Sangamon court had granted Mrs. Freeman's petition for mandamus to compel the welfare department to reinstate her to the pension rolls, and ordered that she receive the same monthly payment she had been receiving before entering the home. The welfare department contended that her admission to the institution had disqualified her for further awards.

Although unable to estimate to what extent the ruling would increase the rolls, John C. Weigel, administrative assistant in charge of old age assistance said it would be an important addition.

"Junketing Expeditions" The court also granted three legislative commissions full authority to spend $207,500 on "junketing expeditions."

"It is not the province of the judiciary to interfere with matters of legislative wisdom or policy," said the opinion reversing the Sangamon county circuit court.

As a result, two groups of senators and representatives can spend $100,000 each attending the San Francisco Golden Gate exposition and the New York world's fair next year. Another commission has a $7,500 appropriation for a memorial on the Gettysburg battlefield.

George B. Gillespie, local attorney, had obtained an injunction restraining the expenditure of the money on the ground that the legislature cannot appoint its own members to commissions supervising the expenditure of state appropriations.

Granting that "reasonable men might differ as to the wisdom" of such legislative commissions, the high court held that the general assembly's power isn't restricted on that point.

Efficiency Expert Seeks Alleged Dues

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—J. L. Jacobs, government "efficiency expert" who surveyed code departments and the University of Illinois at the start of the Horner administration, presented a claim of $3,259 today for unpaid services.

Jacobs, who filed his claim in the state court of Claims, alleged that he had been paid by all the departments except conservation and public works.

Jacobs, who carried on his consultant work under the name of J. L. Jacobs & Co., was Cook county assessor at the time the survey was made. The claim, he said, represents not individual services, but salaries and expenses of his organization.

The consultant submitted 65 written reports on the results of the surveys. As a result, he said, the 1933 general assembly enacted several of the recommended changes, including abolition of the department of purchases and construction and the department of trade and commerce.

Joliet Town Board Plans New Tax Levy

Joliet, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Seven members of the Joliet town board unanimously passed an ordinance yesterday fixing an annual tax of $50 on "music boxes and all devices of skill and amusement operated by insertion of a coin." Sponsors expected the tax to yield $20,000 annually.

Justice of the Peace Dominic Romano, who presented the measure, said it included slot machines. Last December Attorney General Otto Kerner ruled such machines illegal. He said every law enforcement officer in Illinois had a solemn mandate from the people to stamp them out.

The board said the tax would be directed against every such device in operation outside the corporate limits of the city of Joliet, and Supervisor Henry O. Grassie indicated the money would be used for poor relief.

An accompanying ordinance provided for the licensing of circuses, carnivals, roller rinks, dance halls and freak shows.

Unprecedented

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—Nestling in a hospital crib today was a 6 pound, 1 ounce girl, whose lawyers said was the only child known in law courts here to have been provided for by the father by decree before birth.

She was Diana Simms, a daughter of Mrs. Irene Ruth Simms, 26, who was divorced Dec. 13 from Alfred W. Sims, 46, on grounds of cruelty. Terms of the decree were agreed upon by counsel who told the court they had found no legal precedent for it.

Sims yesterday paid $156 for hospital expenses, and in addition to the $80 a month alimony he is to give Mrs. Sims for three years, he will pay $20 a month for support of the child until she is 5.

The child then will receive $25 a month until she is 10, $30 a month for another five years and $40 monthly thereafter until she is 18. Had the baby been a boy the father would have provided for him until he was 21.

PERSHING BACK IN NEW YORK TO SEE SON MARRY

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Smiling, and completely ignoring a waiting wheel chair, General John J. Pershing, World War commander of the armies of the United States, returned to New York today.

The 77-year-old soldier, near death less than two months ago from uremia in his home in Tucson, Ariz., walked unaided from his special railroad car to an elevator in his hotel, smartly saluted spectators gathered in welcome, and went to his room for a rest after the three-day train trip.

The general arrived in the Grand Central terminal at 7:50 A. M. His car was switched to a spur underneath the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, where his sister, Miss Mae Pershing, maintains a suite.

In half an hour, General Pershing appeared at the street level. He was smartly dressed in a grey suit with grey tie. He turned his back on the wheel chair provided for his use and immediately went to his room to rest.

On Friday, he will attend the wedding of his only son, Francis Warren Pershing, to Miss Muriel Bache Richards.

His personal physician, Dr. Ronald Davidson, who made the trip with the general, said the journey had proved trying to the old soldier.

He General Pershing had spent most of the time in bed.

Convict Youth On Manslaughter Count

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—Curly-headed Charles J. Schmidt, Jr., 19, was convicted of manslaughter today for his fatal assault on Edward C. Richard, his father's business partner, but won from the jury a recommendation of leniency. Judge Robert Jerome Dunne of the criminal court did not comment on the suggestion, but set April 26 for hearing a defense motion for a new trial.

The recommendation opened the way for leniency if the court desired. The statute carries a penalty of one to 14 years imprisonment. Probation is discretionary with the court.

Hasty Agreement

San Francisco, Apr. 20.—(AP)—An announcement was made in Judge Timothy I. Fitzpatrick's court and—

Opposing attorneys quickly informed the court a settlement had been reached;

Eleven jurors hurried from the courtroom to consult their physicians.

The announcement: Jesse S. Waterman, the twelfth but absent juror, was down with the mumps.

Wave of Embarrassment Caused in Smithsonian Institute by D. A. R.'s

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—A wave of embarrassment fluttered through the Smithsonian Institution today—all because of the Star Spangled Banner and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

It happened this way:

As a lot of Americans do not know, the original flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to pen the national anthem hangs behind a tremendous glass case in the Smithsonian building.

The D. A. R.'s are in annual convention this week, and they know the flag is there, because it's part of their business to keep informed about flags.

A group of D. A. R. members made a pilgrimage to the Institution in their spare time to see how the banner was withstanding the years.

A guard showed them the way to the flag and then went back to his business of counting the thou-

PEACE POLICY OF F. D. R. LENDS NAVY SUPPORT

Fleet Expansion Is Not Viewed By Senate As Warlike

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's reiteration of his belief in "peaceful negotiations" strengthened the arguments of his senate lieutenants today that the $1,156,000,000 naval expansion program could not be construed as warlike.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference yesterday that this government viewed "with sympathetic interest" the new accord reached by Britain and Italy. He refrained, however, from any references to the political conditions which impelled it.

The United States, the president said, "believes in the promotion of world peace through the friendly solution by peaceful negotiation between nations of controversies which may arise between them."

He said the White House had given no opinion on the wisdom of a proposal by Representative Scott (D-Calif.) to have the state department issue a list formally naming international treaty violators. Scott's goal was reported to be an unofficial boycott of Italy, Germany and Japan.

The international note ran through senate discussions of the House-approved bill to authorize an increase of 20 percent in the navy's strength.

"This program looks large when you consider it by itself," Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the naval committee told reporters, "but when you compare our position with that of other nations it is very meager."

Senators "shocked"

Walsh said many senators were "shocked" when debate developed that the projected increase would not bring this country up to the 5-5-3 ratio once laid down for Britain, the United States and Japan.

The Senate approved most committee amendments to the measure yesterday, causing Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic lead-

DANIELSEN BOY ON TRIAL FOR KNIFE MURDER

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—Teddy Danielson, Jr., 16, went on trial today on charges of murdering his crippled mother with a kitchen knife when she upbraided him for truancy from school.

A delegation of 150 high school students, touring the criminal courts as classwork, listened intently as the young defendant waived a jury trial before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

Almost spruce in a brown checked suit, his blond hair sleeked back, Teddy sat next to his father, who was expected to testify for him.

Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Meyers said the state would show that Teddy came home from a music lesson last March 3 and decided to tell his mother of his truancy. She was baking a pie in the kitchen and a knife lay on the table with other utensils.

"She became angry at his truancy," Meyers said. "She took hold of his cheeks, scratching him. Teddy reached for the knife. He plunged it into her neck and breast. Then he washed the knife free of fingerprints and replaced it in the wound in his mother's neck."

"After that, he fed his dog, packed some trinkets and went away."

Police found the youth subsequently in a hotel, registered under an assumed name.

Defense Counsel Leonard C. Reid said:

"We do not deny that the boy struck the blow, but we rest our defense on the broad ground that he is innocent because his mental condition was such at the time that it was not his act."

In Memoriam

Washington, Apr. 20.—(AP)—Congress laid aside pressing problems of taxes, relief and national defense for a brief period today to participate in memorial services for members who died in the past year.

Democrats and Republicans in the Senate joined in paying tribute to the late Democratic Majority Leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

Memorial services arranged in the House recalled the deaths of five members in that chamber.

Robinson died last July in the midst of one of his greatest battles—the Supreme Court reorganization plan proposed by President Roosevelt.

The majority leader had presented to the Senate only a few days before his death a compromise substitute for the bitterly fought court bill. A complete victory for opponents of the bill followed his death.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TVA GIVEN SANCTION

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) father of the TVA, expressed approval today of a joint congressional committee appointed to investigate the agency.

The 10-man group was completed yesterday when Vice-President Garner appointed Senator Davis (D-Pa) to fill a vacancy resulting from the resignation of Senator Capper (R-Kans). Davis accepted the appointment.

"It is a good committee," Norris said, "and I think it will do a good job."

Senator Bridges (R-NH), a leader in the fight for an investigation, said he was "disappointed but not surprised" that he had not been appointed a member.

Bridges asserted the "Roosevelt administration" had prevented him from serving, and added that senate precedent and courtesy had been ignored.

Senator Frazier (R-ND), a member of the group, said committee members probably would get together soon, select a chairman and employ attorneys, accountants and other investigators.

SAFE DRIVER REWARD PLAN IS APPROVED

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—A "safe driver reward" plan, which some insurance companies have estimated would save Illinois motorists more than a half million dollars annually, was approved by Insurance Director Ernest Palmer today.

The plan proposes lower insurance rates for drivers with clear accident records. Palmer said that plan and several others merit rating proposals, requested by automobile accident insurance companies operating in Illinois, satisfy the requirements of the department.

In outlining the driver reward plan at a recent insurance hearing, A. E. Spoltke of the national bureau of casualty and surety writers of New York said the rewards would range from $6.75 in Chicago to $3.50 in the state's rural sections. His proposal provided for a 15 per cent return on a driver's liability premium to the driver who has had no loss under his policy.

The insurance department said that regulations governing the operation of the various plans would be issued in a few days.

Speed Plans for New Galena Ave. Bridge

The Dixon district engineers of the state highway department are proceeding with all possible speed in preparing the plans and specifications for the new Galena avenue bridge. It was stated at the offices today that it was possible bids would be advertised for about the first of June. This date which is somewhat earlier than the time originally estimated, is due to the dispatch with which the preliminary work has been conducted in the district offices.

A few additional soundings must be made toward the north shore of the river where the torrent of water caused by the break in the dam prevented making them with the special equipment a few weeks ago.

ANTICIPATE EARNINGS

Swarthmore, Pa., April 20.—(AP)—A number of Swarthmore College's 62 seniors disclosed in a class poll that five years after graduation, they expect to be earning only $10 a week. A few estimated they'd pull down $10,000 a year. The average for the class was $190 a month.

DRILLING RESUMED

Olney, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Five new drilling locations in Clay and Wayne counties today had heralded the opening of the spring drilling campaign. Activity was slack during the winter because of muddy roads and fields.

Longest Picketing Siege In History of Labor Is Continued Against Hotel

Chicago Marchers Now in Fifth Year of Campaign

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—Back and forth past green gardens and budding trees and through shadows of cream-colored spires, a persistent band of men and women marched today into their fifth year of picketing the fashionable Edgewater Beach hotel.

When icicles glittered on the towers and lawns were buried beneath snow, they walked their posts. Four times have they watched the trees shed their foliage; four times have they bundled up for the cold, dreary tramp when winter came.

Today it was springtime again, just as on April 20, 1934, when they began their demonstration that, according to labor officials, has become the longest picketing campaign in the history of American labor.

The half-dozen men and women marchers, their clothing placarded with their grievances, represent several American Federation of Labor unions, electricians, cooks, waiters and waitresses, bus boys, bartenders, window washers and miscellaneous help.

300 Workers Affected

Secretary Guy R. Svinhart of the Chicago Waiters Alliance, said the unions were prepared to continue picketing "forever" if necessary. He estimated more than 300 workers were affected by the strike and the picketing has cost the unions more than $30,000.

The strike was called in sympathy with six members of the Electricians' Union to whom the management allegedly had refused to pay union wages. Replacement workers were hired quickly and the hotel, Svinhart said, has remained the only large one in Chicago which has refused to recognize the unions as employee representatives.

Negotiations between the management and the union representatives ceased two years ago.

A week after the strike began a bomb burst near the hotel entrance, causing slight damage. The bombing never was solved.

Picketing was suspended for a few days in February, 1938, under an order by police investigating the mysterious slaying of a delivery man near another hotel involved in labor trouble.

Infantry Inspection To Be Thursday Night

Major John L. Dunn of the United States army, assisted by Capt. H. L. Allen, will conduct the annual inspection of Company A, 129th Infantry of this city at the Army hall Thursday evening. The inspection will be the last to be made in the hall as the local company expects to occupy the new armory building, now under construction, during the summer. The inspection will be open to the public and any who are interested are invited to attend.

The occasion will be of double importance to the members of the company as Capt. Gus Wimpelberg will issue the quarterly pay roll. Checks amounting to approximately $1,200 will be distributed to the members of the company at the close of the annual inspection.

MURDER TRIAL CONTINUED

Murphyboro, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—The trial of Roy Bone of De Soto, charged with killing a man with one blow of his fist, was continued until Friday because of the illness of a witness. Bone was charged with manslaughter in the death of Leon Tope of Carbondale in a De Soto roadhouse last Oct. 31.

Cupid Had Gun

Zion, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Cupid carried a gun and prowled the highways to bring Elaine Haunstein and Vernon Holverson together.

On the night of their first date, robbers took their car and money and then their shoes and stockings so they wouldn't be able to rush to a telephone.

"It's O. K. about the car," Vernon told the robbers. "But I'll take those guns away and wrap them around your necks if you even speak to Elaine. I'll do it anyway unless you give me the money back."

They gave him the money and hurried off in the car. Then Vernon picked up Elaine and carried her a half mile over rough roads to a farm house. Vernon, 24, and Elaine, 18, were married yesterday at Waukegan.

PUPIL STRIKERS TALK DISMISSAL OF SCIENCE PROF

Crystal Lake, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Student strikers, parents and school board members prepared today for an open discussion tomorrow night of the dismissal of Glen Winterringer, science teacher.

Students of the community high school walked out of classes last week after Winterringer was dismissed on the grounds he refused to co-operate with school officials. Winterringer said a "personal grudge" prompted his dismissal.

A truce in the strike was called pending the meeting of the school board tomorrow night. The committee which obtained sanction of the session promised, in return, to see that strikers returned to classes today.

Each of the four classes at the school planned to select five members to serve as their representatives at the meeting.

Fred D. Collett, a graduate of the DeKalb Teachers' college, has come here to take over Winterringer's post. In a letter to parents of the 375 students of the school, the school board contended the evidence against Winterringer was sufficient to support its action.

A. F. Of L. Enters Politics Today

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor, following the example of the C. I. O., entered politics on a national scale today by forming an organization to back selected candidates for public office.

The action, emphasizing anew the split between the two labor associations, indicated that the labor vote will be divided in many state primaries and November congressional elections.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, said the federation might support some candidates who also were approved by the C. I. O., but ordinarily, he added, C. I. O. backing would be "one thing against a candidate."

2 Kane Co. Tavern Owners Defendants

Geneva, Ill.—(AP)—Miss Joyce Martin filed two suits in the Kane county Circuit Court yesterday, asking damages aggregating $60,000 under provisions of the Illinois dram shop act.

She charged Walter Dixon of Aurora, one of the defendants, struck her last Jan. 10 and on another occasion pushed her from an automobile, injuring her spine. Both acts, she alleged, were committed while Dixon was under the influence of liquor.

The two suits, one asking $10,000 and the other $50,000, were directed against the proprietors of two Aurora taverns.

Parents Warned

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—The state conservation department warned parents today that they would be fined $25 to $300 if their children are caught shooting song birds. The department said it had received complaints that boys were shooting birds, particularly robins, with air rifles.

REPORT FORD TO TALK BUSINESS WITH PRESIDENT

Leaders Unite in Effort to Put Recovery Plan Into Operation

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—Congressional leaders and government fiscal officials united today in a determined effort to put the administration's $4,500,000,000 recovery and relief program into operation with a minimum of delay.

Three developments were outstanding:

1. The House appropriations committee, beginning hearings on relief needs, asked WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins to outline his agency's proposed activities for next year.

2. Treasury and federal reserve board executives were called together to decide how fast they should pump the $1,400,000,000 de-stabilized gold credit into the lendable resources of the nation's banks.

3. At Detroit, an informed person said Henry Ford would discuss business conditions with President Roosevelt April 27.

Ford, who has opposed various New Deal policies, was said to have accepted an invitation tendered through C. Hall Roosevelt, the President's brother-in-law. The automobile manufacturer will be in Washington late this week as a guest at the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Purpose of Talks

In the absence of word from the White House, it was generally assumed that Ford's conference was one of a long series which Roosevelt has arranged for the next two weeks. The President told reporters the talks were designed to get the huge lending-spending program under way as quickly as possible.

Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the House appropriations committee said he hoped to have an omnibus recovery bill ready for House consideration by May 1. He added, however:

"A lot of people want to be heard, and I don't know whether we can finish the hearings and committee work in that time."

Shortly before Hopkins appeared before the committee, Representative Snell (R-NY), the minority floor leader, called the WPA chief the "real power behind the White House."

"His absence from the capital (during a long illness) closely coincided with the do-nothing period of the administration, when the Roosevelt depression was deepening," Snell said in a statement.

"Spending Harry"

"His return marked the beginning of the era of feverish activity on the part of the New Deal. Since 'Spending Harry' came back to town things have been moving."

Support of the administration program came from Labor's Non-Partisan league, the political wing of the CIO. The league told workers through its publication that Roosevelt's program "is in every respect labor's program."

Congress acted yesterday on two isolated portions of Roosevelt's recovery recommendations. The Senate approved and sent to the White House a $50,000,000 increase in 1938-39 funds for the Civilian Conservation Corps, making possible the retention of the present 1,500 camps.

The House voted to double the $100,000,000 appropriations for highway aid to the states. The Senate still must act.

Capital Gains Tax Regarded Helpful

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—The Senate unemployment committee reported today enactment of Senate-approved corporation income and capital gains taxes would be "exceedingly helpful" in making jobs for the nation's 12,000,000 and more unemployed.

These taxes, imposing flat rates on corporation income and capital gains, have been approved by business and condemned by the administration.

President Roosevelt has endorsed the House-approved tax bill, which would continue in modified form the present undistributed profits tax on corporations and would provide a sliding scale of rates on capital gains.

Lobby Committee Rebuffed Again

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—The senate lobby committee was re-buffed again today in its effort to obtain records of the national Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

Sumner Gerard, treasurer of the organization, told the senate investigating body he did not have within his "control" a list of contributors to the national committee.

Gerard, a brother of James Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, was called by the committee to testify in its investigating of lobbying activities during congressional consideration of the bill for reorganization of the executive branch of government.

A senate subpoena had directed him to bring a list of all contributors of $100 or more.

Henry Community
Sale

EVERY FRIDAY

AT MARSHALL
Putnam Fair Grounds
HENRY, ILLINOIS

Last week's sale was much better on all of the livestock. Had more of all kinds and the horses were stronger as was reported from all the markets. Hogs sold at a fair price, although there was not a very large run.

Had more Stock Cattle than at any previous sale and they were hard to sell at a profit. Looks like they are as cheap here as anywhere in the state.

Don't forget our big special dairy cow sale on Wednesday, May 11, 1938. We will sell nothing but dairy cows. Kindly let me know how many you will have to consign, as we expect about 250 head.

J. L. KIDD, Manager.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. The biologists are on Dad's side. They believe that the egg gradually evolved, beginning with the seeds of plants and slowly working up until eggs produced animals. That is, they believe that every new character or quality or organ in plants and animals has been caused by the fact that nature first did something or other in the egg—made a "variation" or "mutation"—and this new thing in the egg produced the new color or size or vigor or odor or flavor or other features which we see later in the body of the plant or animal.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Much more so because—whether er justified or not—a tall man is, supposed to be superior—better looking, more attractive, more heroic—than men of low stature. As described in Readers' Digest, one New York man has built up a large business making shoes that make men look from one to five inches taller. Most of his customers are men—especially men in love with taller women, and grooms who feel their wedding picture will show the bride as being the taller member of the family. One psychologist claims that small men buy bigger automobiles than big men.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Certainly he would and usually, the more he is opposed to it the better he would like to do it. I think gambling destroys human character, especially one's sense of the value of money and when one's character is gone he tries to make money without working for it. Nevertheless, man is a born gambler; he evolved by risking his life on the slightest chance; and his greatest achievements have come largely from controlling and guiding this inner drive into fruitful channels.

FARM MARKET
PRICES LOWER

Higher By 177 Per Cent
Than 1932, 1933
Figures

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—With the start of the 1938 cycle of farm harvests only a month away, market prices of major agricultural commodities were 13 to 50 per cent less than a year ago and 29 to 57 per cent below recovery highs.

However, prices were 33 to 177 per cent higher than the lows recorded during 1932 and 1933.

Farmers have larger quantities of produce to sell compared with a year ago, but the increased supply will not offset fully the severe price drop that has accompanied the business slump, analysis of statistics in Chicago commodity markets disclosed. Consequently, government statisticians have forecast a drop in farm income compared with the eight-year high in 1937.

Farmers who begin harvest of winter wheat in the southwest late next month are expected to take the biggest crop in seven years from their fields but the price of wheat is 38 per cent less than a year ago and 42 per cent below the recovery peak.

Farm stocks of corn are 600,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago but the price is 50 per cent lower. The nation's hog population at the first of the year was three per cent larger but the price now is 14 per cent less than in April, 1937, and 34 per cent below the recovery peak of August last year.

Butter has dropped 13 per cent compared with a year ago, steers 25 per cent, eggs 23 per cent, oats 39 per cent, rye 44 per cent and cotton 31 per cent.

Kiss-O-Meter To

Their Lovemaking

Urbana, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Bashful bachelors will be aided in their love-making if they subject their sweethearts to the "Kiss-O-Meter" at the University of Illinois' 16th biennial electrical show this week.

While the ordinary male may depend on chance to learn if the object of his affection is kissable, electrical engineers leave no room for guesswork.

Haphazard methods of rating the osculatory prowess of the female species is eliminated, they claim, by the kiss-o-meter which they say registers the physical re-

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—Colonel Frank Knox, Republican vice-presidential candidate in 1936, announced he would discuss in an address at Wichita, Kan., Friday night a plan for providing unemployment relief funds without going further into debt.

The proposal, he said, would separate the administration of work relief from political or partisan control and would provide jobs without adding in any way to the costs of industrial production.

P-T. A. Sponsoring Annual Summer Round-Up of First Graders

The following announcement was made by the Parent-Teacher associations of the Dixon schools today:

The Parent-Teacher associations of the Dixon schools are sponsoring their annual summer round-up of the children who will enter first grade in the Dixon schools this September.

The object of the summer round-up is to have all children enter first grade free from remediable physical defects.

Dixon doctors and dentists are willing to give their time to make physical examinations at the school buildings. Following the examination of your child, should any defect be noted by the doctor or dentist, you will be asked to take your child to your family physician or dentist for corrections. If all recommended corrections are made before October 1, 1938, your child will receive a health award from the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The summer round-up committees of the elementary schools invite you to bring your child, who will enter school this fall, to one of the school buildings listed below.

If your child is now attending kindergarten please come to school the hours listed that he is in school, as your child will not be examined unless you or someone sent by you is present.

Should you prefer to take your child to your family physician and dentist for examination, please secure an examination form from the school on the date scheduled below, as it is necessary that such a form be used to secure the award from the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

We sincerely hope you will find it possible to attend one of these clinics so you will know if your child is in good physical health to enter school this fall, and if not you may have the needed corrections made during the summer months.

Mrs. W. A. McNichols, chairman North Central school.

Mrs. Roy Finney, chairman Loveland school.

Mrs. Pearl Fulmer had charge of the devotionals. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Alma Foster and Mrs. Dora Bothe. A song, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung and Mrs. Fulmer read the scripture lesson from the 28th chapter of Matthew, after which another song, "He's a Wonderful Saviour to Me," was sung. ## THE WAYS OF PEACE NEED COLOR

The man would do the world an invaluable service who could make the adventures and excitements of the mind's struggle with mankind's problems as attractive as the jingoism can occasionally make organized mutual slaughter, to young men who are a certain distance from it.

"Candid shots"—photographic and literary—have doubtless performed a considerable service in bringing repeatedly to the young man's attention the ghastly, degrading business warfare actually is. But how vividly do such reminders remain in the consciousness when the more brightly colored offerings of the professional "drum-beaters" are brought into competition with them?

Once that infectious martial music starts hammering away, once the output of pictures—again, camera pictures and word pictures—acquires a romantic air, will those grimmer pictures remain in the mind?

They may. They are hard to forget. But mightn't the tactic of having made adventurous and admirable the struggles of civilized men's intellects toward peaceful solutions . . . more adventurous and admirable than slaughter . . . go a long way toward determining the youthful mind to keep right on resisting that call to primitive battle?

From Spain come descriptions of young Carlists, "Requetés," followers of the "Falange," going into battle full of the "crusading spirit." You read that they "look to the sixteenth century for inspiration," and something about it sounds romantic. The Loyalists with whom they struggle are as certain they are fighting for the preservation of civilization as are their enemies. Sometimes it almost sounds worthwhile.

"It is impressive to note that so many young Spaniards deeply believe in something," you read. Whatever became of that deep belief in peace?

Why cannot a belief in rational conduct be universally inspired, a belief so deep that it can be transformed into a stronger passion than war's?

A positive belief in reason, an intense passion for it, would help the work of the "candid shots" along. But somebody may have to figure a way of making civilized conduct look exciting.

TIME MARCHES ON

Traveling salesmen all over the country are buckling down to their studying about now.

If they aren't, they'd better be. The Great Upset is upon us. Some people call it daylight saving time, but travelers call it . . . well, not The Great Upset, but a number of names of equal force, if less repeatability.

Or maybe there is no handy pocket pamphlet which travelers may study on the subject. In that case, they'll have to keep right on trying to learn by experience.

A traveling man's appointment for 10 A. M. in one city is likely to be an appointment for an entirely different hour if he neglected to adjust his timepiece en route. This is a particularly distressing state of affairs when a meal is thrown in with a conference.

The time-juggling situation has at least two consolations, however. Daylight-saving is being adopted by an increasing number of cities, and before you know it that's all the time there might be. Also, it's a consolation to know that it went into effect earlier in Great Britain, France and Belgium.

PATCHED FRIENDSHIPS

A woman in Chicago who made a giant quilt out of scraps of celebrities' wearing apparel has refused the offers of a number of museums, explaining that the quilt was made for her granddaughter, Nancy.

What proportion of the world's celebrity population is represented may be suggested by the facts that the quilt took more than six years to make, and holds some 10 million stitches.

The lady's devotion to her task and her granddaughter is thoroughly laudable, but can't somebody who is accomplished in such things break the news to her, in a tactful and gentle way, about the susceptibility of the child mind to sensory impressions, especially in the relaxed state just preceding sleep?

Nancy will get the quilt as soon as she is "old enough to appreciate it," her grandmother says. When she is old enough to appreciate it, how is she going to be able to get to sleep under it, and if she does get to sleep, what kind of dreams is she going to have?

Patches have been contributed by the following celebrities, among others: Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, Charlie McCarthy, General John J. Pershing, Mae West, President Roosevelt, ex-President Hoover, and Rear Admiral Byrd, not to mention a number of the crowned heads of Europe.

If Nancy can drift off into untroubled slumbers after a thoughtful glance at a cozy gathering like that, even if it's only a gathering by proxy, Nancy deserves the world's most extraordinary quilt.

Pupils Win Strike: Will Keep Teacher

Cahokia, Ill., April 20.—(AP)—Thirty-eight striking pupils of the Cahokia village grade school returned to their classes today, successful in their two-day demonstration to have their teacher rehired.

Supported by their parents, all except two of Mrs. Maude Widener's class walked out after learning the school board had voted to dismiss her at the end of the present school year because she is married and her husband is employed. While the children picketed the school, Mrs. Widener taught two boys who attended.

The board last night rescinded its action and voted to rehire Mrs. Widener, who has taught at the school 11 years.

"I'm awfully proud of my children," she commented.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—Now that the first reactions to the President's fire-side chat and recovery program have been digested, it is important to go behind the scenes and take a look at some of the inside factors which influenced the messages.

It is supposed to be a White House secret, but the President used two different sets of collaborators in the preparation of his program.

On the message to Congress he followed the advice of his soft-peddlers, Cordell Hull, Henry Wallace, RFC Chairman Jesse Jones, and Jim Farley. These are the boys who have urged that Roosevelt lean over backward not to offend the rebellious sensibilities of Congress. As a result, the message was largely a factual explanation of the measures with which he proposes to combat the recession. It contained only a fifteen-word reference to wage-hour legislation.

Contrasted to this, Roosevelt's speech to the nation echoed the views of his militant lieutenants. But much more important, it echoed his own personal views.

Wage-Hour Issue

Running all through the fire-side chat, it will be remembered, were references to the "failure of consumer demand," to the necessity of creating "buying power" and finally to the need of passing a wage-hour bill "to ensure a better distribution of prosperity."

Behind this, in turn, was the private conviction of the President that his first spending program from 1933 to 1936 had failed largely because the big fellows at the top had taken out most of the profits.

Naturally, Roosevelt is not going to come out publicly and say this, though he came close to it in his fire-side chat. But some of his close advisers are saying it for him—in fact, even go so far as to say that the old "trickle down" system of Herbert Hoover was largely duplicated by Franklin Roosevelt.

The "trickle down" system was the idea of the late Andrew W. Mellon, who believed that if you fed business to the big firms at the top, without taxing them too much, the benefit eventually trickled down to the worker at the bottom.

Only difficulty was that the system was too well named. The "trickle" which emerged at the bottom was, in fact, only a trickle. And it is now pretty well recognized by economists of both political parties that the big profits which stuck to the top and the meager wages which came out at the bottom, during the Coolidge-Hoover days, were an important cause of the depression.

Quite recently the President has had some figures placed before him which indicate that the "trickle down" system continues during his administration and has been an important cause of recession.

"Trickle Down" Figures

These figures show that the automobile industry made 25.8 per cent profit in 1936 and 20 per cent in 1937; that confectionery and beverage manufacturers made 21 per cent and 22 per cent profit respectively during the same years; that drug manufacturers made 26.6 per cent and 19.9 per cent; that the liquor industry made 18 per cent and 15.5 per cent; that tobacco manufacturers made 12.9 per cent and 12.8 per cent; that farm implement manufacturers made 11.9 per cent and 13 per cent in 1936 and 1937, and so on. (These are the conservative figures of the National City Bank; some government economists figure them even higher.)

In other words, Roosevelt had before him figures showing that big business had waxed fat from his recovery program, while the buying power of the average wage-earner did not increase materially.

Also he had Department of Commerce figures showing that from March, 1937, to March, 1938, there had been a 25 per cent drop in farm prices, while the price drop on 640 various manufactured items was less than 3 1-2 per cent.

Thus parity between farm prices and industrial prices was not being kept. Small groups of manufacturers could pool to fix prices while 30,000,000 farmers could not. Thus also labor had to pay just as much for manufactured commodities despite cut wages and part-time employment.

All this was the background of the President's fire-side emphasis on the wage-hour bill.

Unless "those at the bottom as well as at the top" get the benefit of the new government spending, Roosevelt believes, the new program will be just a shot in the arm, necessarily followed by another, when the effect of this one wears off.

Out of Turn

Thurman Arnold, new Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Anti-Trust Division, was the guest speaker last week at the weekly luncheon of the Women's National Press Club, after which the meeting was thrown open to questions.

After several had been asked about the work of Arnold's division, a voice in the rear suddenly inquired, "Isn't it true that if the Aluminum Corporation of America was not a monopoly, aluminum would cost only half as much as it does now?"

Arnold's response was prompt and to the point.

"I can't answer that question," he snapped, "the government has an anti-monopoly case against this company that comes up for trial next month. It would be entirely improper for me to discuss this subject in any manner."

Then, after a pause, Arnold demurred, "Say who asked that question?"

With him everyone in the room craned his neck in the direction of the inquirer—to make the startling discovery that it was Mrs. Cecilia Cummings, plump little wife of the Attorney General.

Note—Before he became Attorney General, Homer Cummings had spent several years trying anti-trust cases against the Aluminum Company.

THOUSANDS AT MAJOR LEAGUE BALL OPENERS

Giants Unleashed Batting Attack, Down Bees

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ball-throwing presidents, governors and mayors were back at their appointed tasks today after playing their star roles in the opening day frills and folderols that started off another major league baseball campaign.

Fans totalling just over 200,000 witnessed yesterday's nine flag-spangled games, marking the general opening of the season after Monday previews at Boston and Washington. This turnout included a banner crowd of 40,000 at the Polo Grounds; 34,000 at Cincinnati and 33,000 for the afternoon half of the Patriot's Day program between the New York Yankees and the Red Sox at Boston.

Two outstanding events pointed the gala occasion and had baseball bugs talking today—the rip-roaring batting attack unveiled by Bill Terry's New York Giants in flattening the Boston Bees, 13 to 1, and the continued weak hitting of the world champion Yankees, who collected a total of only seven hits in splitting with the Red Sox.

Very Disconcerting. The Giants, picked to fight for the National league pennant with Chicago because of their pitching and tight defense, spilled 16 hits off three Boston pitchers, including three home runs, while Cliff Melton easily held the Bees. The Giants had been hitting that way against Cleveland's crack staff in recent exhibition games, but nobody expected them to keep it up.

On the other hand, the Yankees, famed for their power, continued to look hamstrung with Joe DiMaggio out of their line-up. They won the morning game from Boston, 5 to 3, on a pinch-hit by Red Puffing in the last inning, but made only five hits. In the afternoon Jack Wilson and Fritz Ostermuller blanked them, 6 to 0, allowing the two-time champions only two safeties. Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey went hitless for the day, and the anger of Owner Jacob Ruppert appeared to mount.

Ruppert Peeved. It blazed when he was informed that DiMaggio was willing to compromise on salary if the club would make the first move. "I should say not," he snapped.

About the only consolation for Yankee followers was the fact that the two clubs supposed to give them their competition, Detroit and Cleveland, also had headaches today. Detroit dropped a tight one to the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3, and the lowly St. Louis Browns spoiled Oscar Vitt's managerial debut at Cleveland by shellacking the great Johnny Allen, 6 to 2.

Roxie Lawson was the losing Detroit pitcher, the Sox jumping on him for three runs in the fourth inning. One of the vital hits was by Joe Kuhel, Sox first sacker recently obtained from Washington. Players who figured in the big Detroit-Chicago trade didn't do anything exciting, but Vernon Kennedy, now with Detroit, was slated to pitch against his former White Sox mates today.

Senators Win 2nd Straight. In the other American league game, the Washington Senators made it two straight over the Philadelphia Athletics, 9 to 2, as Monte Weaver hurled six-hit ball.

The Chicago Cubs, with their new $250,000 beauty, Dizzy Dean, lending encouragement, came through Owner Phil Wrigley of the Cubs was scheduled to learn how much pitcher he got for all that money today when Dean was Manager Charley Grimm's choice again Cincinnati's Lee Grissom.

JUNIORS IN INTERCLASS TRACK LEAD

Broad Jump, 440-Yd. Dash Records Are Eclipsed

Two records of over four years standing collapsed before the scintillating performance of John Jensen, Dixon high senior track hope Tuesday afternoon in the first day's competition of a two-day interclass meet. The juniors took the lead in the first day's results, 53 to 43. Sophomores made 9 and frosh 2 points.

Jensen lowered the 440-yard dash mark by one tenth of a second, stepping it off in .554 time compared to the former mark of .555 made by Marvin Rebeck in 1934. Jensen sailed through the air with the greatest ease to exceed by three inches the former record of 20 feet, 11 inches set by Strong in 1933. Jensen's leap measured 21 feet, 2 inches.

Seven Events Run. Seven events of the fourteen-event meet were run off Tuesday. The elder track was in very good condition. Work in the shot put and javelin was hampered by lack of desirable fields but were run off satisfactorily, the shot put being held behind the stadium and the javelin in the field north of the high school.

This afternoon the 220 yard dash, 880 yard run, 200 yard low hurdles, pole vault, high jump, discus, and relay race events were scheduled. The events run last night were the 100 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, mile run, shot put, and javelin throw.

Following are the records yesterday:

100 yard dash—Dachbach (J), Nicklaus (J), Williams (So), Smith (Fr), Time: 11.6.
440 yard dash—Jensen (S), Rambo (So), McNamara (J), Shiras (J), Time: .554. New Record.
120 yard high hurdles—Bush (J), Page (J), Bevilacqua (J), Vaughn (Fr), Time: 18.4.
Mile run—P. Gmund (S), C. Gmund (J), Duffy (S), Grobe (S), Time: 5:6.5.
Shot put—Jensen (S), Bevilacqua (J), Ankeny (S), Palmer (J), Dist: 35 feet, 4 inches.
Broad jump—Jensen (S), Dachbach (J), Page (J), Crabtree (So), Dist: 21 feet, 2 inches. New record.
Javelin throw—Callahan (S), Hoeman (So), Bevilacqua (J), Kelley (S), Dist: 147 feet, 6 inches.
Points were rated on a 7-5-3-1 basis for first, second, third and fourth respectively.

Pawson Repeats Marathon Victory 2:35:24 4 5 Time

Boston, April 20.—(AP)—Leslie Pawson of Pawtucket, R. I., who gained his first Boston A. marathon fame five years ago when he set the course record of 2:31:01 3-9, today joined the little company of four winners who have "repeated" in the 42-year history of that famous 26-mile, 385-yard race from Hopkinton to Boston.

The 34-year-old playground instructor, who wants a berth on the 1940 U. S. Olympic marathon team, led Pat Dengis of Baltimore by a fifth of a mile, and 178 other rivals by much wider margins, when he plodded to victory through yesterday's heat in 2:35:24 4-5.

$198,000 PRIZE MONEY FOR WINS IN A. B. C. GIVEN

Moline Bowler Highest Winner, Gets $300 Honor

Chicago, April 20.—(AP)—They cut up a $198,000 melon today for the money players in America's bowling classic.

Top prize winner when the 38th annual American Bowling Congress ended last night was Knute Anderson, of Moline, Ill. Most of the big money went to midwesterners.

Anderson took $300 in cash, a diamond medal, and the plaudits of the bowling world for topping 746 pins to win the individual championship. His margin of victory was 21 pins.

There were 24,784 keglers after the prize during the 48 days and nights of competition on 40 gleaming drives. The number of alleys and contestants were new A. B. C. highs.

One record score was written into the books. It was the 3,234 count amassed by the Birk Brothers Brewing Co. team of Chicago, a score that topped the nearest competitor by 137 pins and compared with the former record of 3,199 set in 1927 by the Milwaukee Tea shops. Veteran bowlers figured the new record would be secure for many years.

Split $1,000 Cash. The victorious team split a $1,000 cash prize in addition to receiving the diamond awards bestowed upon first place winners.

Don Johnson and Fannie Snyder of Indianapolis divided $500 which went to the two-man event winners. They knocked down 1,337 pins four days before the tournament ended to take the event by a two-pin margin over their fellow townsmen, Fred Mounts and Harry Wheeler.

The all-evening award of $200 went to Don Beatty, 23, of Jackson, Mich. He upset predictions by holding the top rung with a 1,978 count since March 12. His margin was 19 pins.

Mike Blazek of Conneaut, Ohio, earned the distinction of being the fifth bowler to turn in a perfect game in A. B. C. history—during which nearly 2,000,000 games have been rolled.

Next year bowlers will seek A. B. C. gold and glory at Cleveland.

OWEN HUBBELL FORMS S-BALL GRADE LEAGUE

Owen O. Hubbell, principal of the South Central elementary school, has developed a four team soft ball league among the boy students which opened their schedule yesterday after noon in a doubleheader played at the playground on Monroe avenue and Fifth street. About 40 boys are members of the four teams who are playing for the championship of the school. The opening games were played yesterday afternoon. The teams will meet again Thursday afternoon at 3:30 for another double header series, each game going five innings. Next Tuesday afternoon will complete the schedule, after which the championship will be decided in a nine inning game to be played between the two teams with the highest standings on Thursday of next week. The captains and team members are as follows:

Dean's Pitching Arm Still Winner Wrigley Believes

Los Angeles, April 20.—(AP)—Take it from P. K. Wrigley, who backs up his statements with cash, Dizzy Dean's pitching arm still is a winner.

He said so today, at his Catalina Island home, in discussing the deal by which his Chicago Cubs bought Dean from the St. Louis Cardinals.

"We're preparing for a long haul in baseball and felt Dean was the pitcher we needed."

"No, we haven't taken out a cent of insurance on Dizzy. Dean's investment to the Cubs is one of service. The protection insurance would afford us wouldn't matter. What we want is a winning ball club."

"The Cubs have just spent a million dollars improving Wrigley field. I can't see what good it is to spend all this money if we can't improve the product we are selling, namely baseball. That's why we bought Dean."

"We know Dean is in perfect physical trim and expect him to be a winner."

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

After paying what he considered an exorbitant tax on a piece of property in the country, Mr. I. M. Tuff, a publisher, spent long hours perpetrating a hoax on the particular tax investigator who had caused him all the trouble and expense. Mr. Tuff said to a friend, "Bill, that property of mine is square-shaped, six hundred feet on a side. I'm going to fence a triangle three hundred feet on a side and increase the distance around it by at least three hundred feet each month for two years and each month I'm going to tell that investigator about it and make him go out there and look it over." "But," said Bill, "if you lie to him about increasing it he'll make it hard for you." "I won't be lying to him," said Mr. Tuff. "I can do it without running over the borders of my property." How could he?

CCC CAMPS WILL NOT BE REDUCED

Additional Funds Will Keep Program Up To Present Mark

Washington, April 20.—(AP)—The Civilian Conservation Corps will operate 1,501 camps for another year. Director Robert Fechner said today, as a result of congressional approval of an additional $50,000,000 appropriation.

"The new funds," Fechner said, "will mean that we do not have to cut off 301 camps as previously ordered, and that we can proceed with an uninterrupted program."

The extra money, requested by President Roosevelt in his new recovery program, was authorized by the Senate yesterday. The House previously had voted for it.

Fechner estimated that more than one half of the CCC appropriation, now increased to $276,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, will be spent on supplies, including food, clothes and equipment. The remainder will be distributed in wages to about 271,000 enrolled men.

In Same Locations. The camps, Fechner said, will be continued in their present locations with the exception of 41, which will be moved from army reservations to other sites.

Started slightly more than five years ago as Roosevelt's first recovery project, the CCC has given employment to approximately 2,200,000 persons at various times.

During the quarter ended September 30, 1937, Fechner said, 3,799 enrollees obtained private jobs because of training received in camp.

The national conservation program carried out by CCC has included the following:

Part of Program
1,255,262,000 forest trees planted.
64,231 miles of telephone line erected.
41,133 bridges constructed.

3,982,720 erosion check dams built.
2,988,307 acres of forest lands improved.
16,722,021 acres cleared of plant diseases and pests.
120,310 miles of roads and trails built.

er, to predict final passage by tomorrow.
But from Senator Nye (R-ND), an opponent, came a statement that "we have between 40 and 45 votes, against the bill and we will keep debating it for two weeks or more."

Amendments approved without objection would increase the number of authorized auxiliary ships from 22 to 26 and would require shipbuilding to be carried out under terms of the Walsh-Healey act, which imposes wage and hour standards on government contractors.

Remaining committee amendments, which were expected to arouse a vigorous floor fight, would increase from 35,000 to 45,000 the maximum tonnage of three new battleships to be built under the expansion program and would lift maximum for two new aircraft carriers.

Under the Senate bill, the navy would have authorization to spend $811,095,000 over a 10-year period for 46 new fighting vessels, along with $216,451,000 for auxiliaries, $106,000,000 for 950 airplanes, $8,000,000 for navy yard improvements and $15,000,000 for experimental work with light surface craft.

Remainder of committee amendments, which were expected to arouse a vigorous floor fight, would increase from 35,000 to 45,000 the maximum tonnage of three new battleships to be built under the expansion program and would lift maximum for two new aircraft carriers.

CHURCH OF BRETHREN TO DEDICATE ORGAN

The Mt. Morris Church of the Brethren, after one of the most successful Easter seasons in its history, will dedicate next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock a Hammond electric organ recently purchased from Lyon & Healy, Inc., Chicago.

A little more than a year ago, this instrument which has been having such a phenomenal reception all over America was demonstrated to the members and friends of the local congregation. At that time the church was very well pleased but the purchase of the organ was delayed until a few weeks ago when it was installed for use during the Easter season. The instrument is being purchased and presented to the local congregation by the Men's Work organization of the church of which Prof. Hendrickson is the president. Harvey Long heads the committee in charge of its purchase and installation.

For the dedicatory service, Gene Alders, accomplished Hammond organist of Chicago, has been secured as guest organist. Lee Loomis will sing a baritone solo, "A New Song" by Pierson. The dedicatory sermon by the pastor, Rev. Foster B. Stalter is entitled "Music and Worship." The act of dedication is a responsive service by the pastor and congregation. E. R. Henricks will offer the dedicatory prayer. The service will conclude with the choir under the direction of E. R. Henricks singing "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan. Mrs. Gertrude Diehl who has received special instruction in the use of the instrument in Chicago, is the regular organist of the church.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Alders will present an organ recital. He will play the following numbers: Group I: "Prayer (Gothic Suite)"; Melody, Daves; Largo, Handel; Group II: Offertoire in D Minor, Bistice; Calm as the Night, (Bohm); The Bells of St. Mary's, Adams; Group III: Londoner's Air, Traditional; To a Water Lily, Macdowell; Serenade, Tosceli and a medley of popular hymns.

The Hammond organ which is being dedicated was first introduced in April, 1935. Since that time it has enjoyed the most phenomenal success ever recorded in the music industry. Since then more Hammonds have been sold than all makes of pipe organs combined. Thousands have been installed all over America and in thirty-one foreign countries. The principal reasons for the Hammond's success are the beauty of its music, its low price and its universal adaptability. The music being produced by electrical impulses, the organ can never be out of tune. It has remarkable dynamic range. Press comments on the recent Hammond organ recital by Fernando Germani, famous Italian organist, presented at the University of Chicago, spoke of it as "one of the most magnificent organ recitals on record."

The local congregation is happy to have one of these instruments for the enrichment of its worship. It invites the people of the community to see and examine it at any time and invites you to attend these dedicatory services if not attending services elsewhere.

Harmon Public School Will Observe Parents' Day as Special Recognition Of Newly Acquired Superior Rating

Co-operation Brings Accomplishment To The Community

By OLIVE STOFFREGEN
Superintendent

Tomorrow Harmon public school will observe Parents' Day as a special recognition of the newly acquired status of the school—that of superior rating in the elementary school and full recognition in the high school.

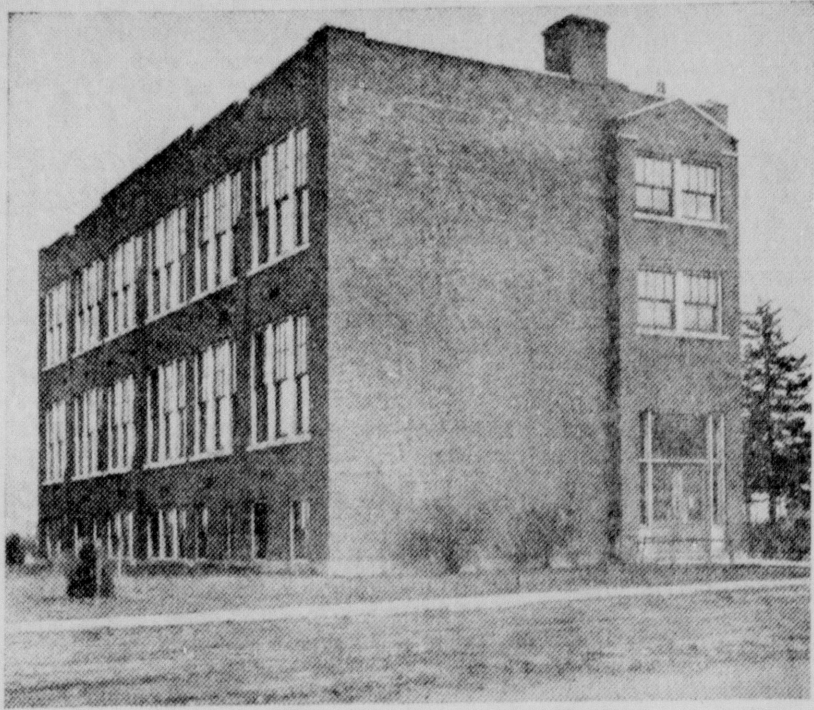

For many years the high schools of Illinois which have met certain requirements have been recognized by the state department of public instruction and this year Harmon high school received its full recognition. Recently the state department set out on a similar arrangement for elementary schools. Rating sheets for the recognition of elementary schools are prepared by the superintendent of public instruction. If the requirements set forth in the rating sheet are met by the local school, certificates of "recognition" or "superior" rating are granted.

The elementary school of Harmon has attained superior rating, the highest elementary rating given, and the patrons of the Harmon school are proud of this distinction granted for the first time in the history of the local school. Much credit should be given to the Harmon board of education, County Superintendent L. W. Miller, Assistant State Superintendent Claude E. Vick and the local faculty for their constructive efforts and untiring cooperation in bringing this worthy accomplishment to the community.

Requires Planning
Anyone concerned with education realizes that it takes a reasonable amount of planning to make a school function effectively as an educational institution. It is an acknowledged fact that environment exerts a great influence on the development of children of school age. For this reason, if for no other, school buildings, grounds and equipment should receive appropriate consideration.

Education must teach the youth of our country an appreciation of life and the mastery of the great principle of living. Yet when we think of the comparatively short time that a child spends in school as compared with the amount of time he spends in later years confronting destructive as well as constructive factors, it is vitally necessary for the school to assume a position of importance in the community.

lived himself that sooner or later one must take life by the horns or be tossed up in the wreckage. That now or never he must assert himself. She had belittled him publicly—"You were lucky to get here." "How do you mean—lucky?" "In that pile of junk." She had let Gary Brent drive it. Let him see their poor makeshifts. Let him see the pass to which her marriage had brought her—

"The drive up was pleasant compared to my arrival here." "Not trying to tell me you didn't enjoy meeting Brent?"

"I was referring to having no place to go. To feeling like a homeless animal." She knew she was being unfair but she kept right on. "You provided no place for me. If it hadn't been for Gary—"

If it hadn't been for Gary! The banked storm of his anger burst in his fury. He could fight now. "And so you accepted the loan of a house?"

Judith shrugged. "What's a roof between friends?" "If you take that attitude—" "What other one can I take?"

Where else could I go? asked Judith reasonably—a shade too reasonably.

"You could have waited an hour or two until Pike got your tent up. You preferred to humiliate me."

"I didn't give it a thought." "Your frankness is refreshing. What sort of a fool do you think I am?"

Landslide
Her shrug was more deadly insulting than words.

"You're going to give me a thought from now on," hotly. "Yes?" lazily.

"How long do you think you can go on cheapening me?" "I—? Cheapen YOU? Impossible."

He looked at her—a dark woman in white, with blue beads around her neck—the woman he had put on a pedestal; the woman who could make a mushroom of him—coldly and critically he looked at her and hated her!

All the suppressed resentment that had been seething against her since his wedding day took fire. Every superior smile and uplifted eyebrow; every veiled sneer; every real or imagined condescension clamored for outlet, for retaliation. It was like the beginning of a landslide—rocks, trees, houses, grass, earth—all being loosened, seeping and tumbling down a vast mountain, colliding violently one with the other, swept by the hurricane of his rage. "Cheapening me to Brent—"

Her laughter scorched like hot

The Story So Far:

In love with dashing Gary Brent, Judith Goodloe marries Reuben Oliver for his money—only to learn he is bankrupt. Birth of twins, unemployment and poverty follow. Then Reuben gets work in a lumber camp Gary manages and joyfully sends for Judith. On Judith's arrival Gary provides a cabin for her and takes her dancing. Returning from the woods Reuben discovers what has happened. Blindly angry he removes the babies to his tent. Terror, then rage grip Judith when she comes back to the empty house.

Chapter 32

The End or the Beginning?
Moving hastily about the dim, fragrant bedroom, picking up small garments, comb, brush, her faded blue linen—flinging them all into the open bag, Judith tried vainly to drown her growing resentment. Why couldn't he have left her here to this white bath, to these firm smooth beds, to comfort for just one night?

Judith shut her ears to common sense. Reuben was sulking. Jealous of her comfort. A dog in the manger. Because he had failed to provide all this himself. Her nerves were still quivering, her pulses not quite steady.

The tent at plot 16 was dark as Egypt under its pine-tree. Neither Judith nor Gary saw the khaki clad figure sitting in the opening. Bringing the old car to a wobbly halt Gary said: "I don't notice any light in the window to guide the wanderer home."

"Everything is right as a trivet," Judith assured him. "Drive my Rolls back to your place, Gary. You can return it tomorrow."

"I'm thanking you for the most wonderful evening!" Terribly he wanted to kiss her but he didn't even touch her hand. "Goodnight, Judy."

"Goodnight, Gary!" He got into the car and rattled away. Judith stood for a moment watching the red tail light disappear, then she turned and went slowly up the slight incline to the tent. A tall figure arose wraithlike and filled the opening.

"Reuben!" At the sight of him her anger burst into a flame that defied suppression. He had been listening, eavesdropping. "Why didn't you pop up sooner, jack-in-the-box?"

Weariness and black rage tied his tongue. He stepped aside to allow her to enter the tent ahead of him.

Judith held back. "You go first and make a light."

Stooping his tall length Reuben went inside. Judith followed, slowly, uncertainly, blinking at the sudden harsh light which Reuben switched on.

For a fleeting second they stood staring, silent—a few yards between them—the width of the world between them. Each knew it was there. Neither tried to span it.

Judith was startlingly aware of a new virility, a new poise about the man who was her husband. His hair, so lately released from the barber's ministrations, had been worried by restless fingers until every hair stood tumbled, vital and dully bronze. His shirt, turned in at the neck, displayed a length of sunburnt throat. It modelled his superb shoulders. Shining puttees drew attention to his straight legs—

With effort Judith turned her attention from him to the tent with its taut white sides, its sloping top—deep enough to divide into three rooms—

Useless to pretend interest in the tent. Reuben's masculinity dominated it; filled it to overflowing. This new thing between them sizzled and seethed like water too hot and too long confined in steam pipes. An explosion was inevitable.

Dully, but with a mixture of surprise and relief, Judith thought: "This is the end—the end of my marriage."

With cavernous exultance Reuben thought: "This is where I should have started that day before the bishop. This is the beginning."

Their eyes locked in hostile combat. One would go down to defeat. Each watched for the other to make the first move.

Now or Never
The beginning or the end? They had to come to grips with Life, with each other, Judith and Reuben, who until now had so very carefully avoided combat.

Judith, hardly knowing what she did, picked a piece of wrapping paper from the floor and started to fashion a shade for the electric bulb. "No use to awaken the children."

Reuben made no attempt to steady the swaying light. "I don't believe dynamite could disturb them."

If they had essayed no more conversation all might have been well. Fate was giving them a chance but they would have none of it. Reuben said: "You drive up?" His tone conveyed resentment.

"I bought Jeff Snow's old car." Her tone conveyed defiance.

"A waste of money." It was not
